Gov. HOARD, of Wisconsin, appears to have put a quietus on prize fighting in that state also. This, if nothing more, should entitle him to another term.

AND now John L. Sullivan wants to go to congress. With a prison cell staring a man in the face, most any one would prefer a seat in the legislative halls of the nation.

IF we remember rightly the gilded palaces of sin were allowed to remain in this city if they would move off Laurel street to a certain locality. They haven't moved to any great extent.

THE Crookston Times bewails the fact that its fire department is so effete and chimes that if it were otherwise brick blocks would adorn the spots where tumble-down wooden buildings now stand.

IT is now claimed that Steve Brodie did not go over Niagara Falls but sent a dummie over in his place and that he was dropped in the water below the whirlpool. There are some notorious frauds in the country inclending the late lamented Grover.

FREE trade would do away with labor strikes and all trouble between employer and employe—sing what some people claimed during a recent campaign. In the home of free trade two hundred thousand laborers have been out on a strike during the past week.—Northfield News.

THE prison physician at Stillwater makes the statement to the effect that Bob. Younger is not dying and that the announcement published has not the shightest foundation. Some overzealous friend has been instrumental in getting these articles published to work up a sentiment for his release. When either of the Youngers leave Stillwater it should be when death has claimed them and not before.

IF the government will not see that the Indians are kept on the reservation the residents of the surrounding country should take the matter in hand themselves. The white men in this country have stood the nuisance long enough. Indians can leave their reservation, kill and drive the game all out of the country, raise disturbances, cause the arrest of white men for selling them liquor and raise h—l generally and go South free themselves. The people of Northern Minnesota have stood the nuisance and held their patience as long as possible and further submission will cease to be a virtue. Do you suppose if a white man had raised the racket that the red skinned Wadena did, that he would have been allowed to go without a heavy fine?—well hardly.

How is This, Bro. Stivers?

England, the champion free trade country, is plastered all over with trusts. In this country they have totally independent of the trust and can hardly be said to have succeeded at all. for they have not yet been long enough established to become fixed, and the popular sentiment against them is so strong that the weaker ones are falling to pieces of their own accord and stringent legislation is being evoked against the more powerful. We do not include in this category the Standard Oil Trust, which is more exactly a monopoly than a trust. That is to say, its owners control all the natural sources of supply, and certainly its control is nearly independent of and can not be changed by any alterations of the tariff. The great wool, cotton, and steel manufacturing interests, which are supposed to be especially favored by the high tariff, have always bitterly opposed any plan of a trust, believing that, with reasonable tariff protection, competition at home would be best for the country at large and therefore for individual producers.—Boston Advertiser.

Around the State.

All but two of the Cass lake band of Chippewa Indians have signed the treaty.

J. W. Reynolds, editor of The Herman Enterprise, has sued County Auditor Sanford for libel, laying his damages at $10,000. The suit is the outcome of a bitter newspaper controversy which has been going on for some time between the parties.

John Thies, a prominent farmer of Cold Springs, while threshing was caught in the machine and had his leg so badly mutilated as to necessitate amputation. He may die.

Hastings new linen mill will begin operations the coming week.

Burglars have been making good baths at Stillwater.

Lambert Lenz of Melrose was examined in the probate court at St. Cloud and committed to the insane asylum.

Burglars went through several stores at Kasson and stole between $200 and $300 worth in goods and money.

A strolling crank visited Elk River last week seeking signatures asking congress not to pass stringent Sunday laws.

John Donnelly, of Morris, a brother of Hon. Ignatius Donnelly, of Hastings, died of cholera morbus.

The Indian Goes Free.

A special from Princeton brings the news that the case of the State vs. Wadena was given to the jury at 11.20 a. m., Tuesday, and a verdict of not guilty was rendered at 3:40 p. m. The verdict is a surprise to the people of the county, the preponderence of evidence, such as it was, was in favor of Wadena. Three straightforward, intelligent, honest white men gave testimony that was true beyond a doubt or cavil, but the testimony of four worthless gamblers of the Mille Lacs tribe was considered as superior, and Wadena was discharged.

Sees One Side Only.

The national debt increased more than seven million dollars during the month of August. We begin to see why the republicans were so anxious for high tariff. That surplus in the treasury is vanishing with startling rapidity.—Brainerd Journal.

The above item in the Journal of yesterday shows how eagerly its editor watches for a chance to vent his democratic doctrines upon the public, and how totally ignorant he actually is upon the subject he has tackled. Bro. Stivers saw that item in some democratic paper and made the above editorial mention, but failed to see the denial that followed by Secretary Windom; to the effect that the public debt was decreased during that time to the extent of $20,910,180 instead of increased $7,000,000, which is quite a difference. The conclusion, erroneous as it was, that the debt had been increased, arose from the form of the monthly statement issued by the department, and Mr. Windom explains the matter as follows:

"By this form any increase of the cash in the treasury shows an apparent decrease of the debt, and disbursements for any purpose, other than the purchase of bonds at par value, show an apparent increase of the public debt, equal to the amount of such disbursements. The facts during the last two months exactly correspond to this, and though the actual reduction of the debt was $20,910,180, the 'debt statement' showed an average increase of $7,094,003. The largely increased purchases of bonds for the sinking fund during the last two months over the corresponding months of last year show an increase in the premium paid of $2,575,926. All these things figure in the last debt statement as an increase in the public debt, while in reality they have nothing to do with it. I can readily see how an honest misapprehension may arise from the form of the monthly statement and therefore have taken the trouble to make this explanation."

Bro. Stivers could have found this statement in any of the daily papers, but his ideas on the tariff have so blinded his vision that he can see but one side of national affairs. It is peculiar with what "startling rapidity" that surplus is vanishing.

The Globe pays the following tribute to the memory of S. S. Cox:

For more than thirty years Mr. Cox had been a prominent figure in national affairs, and yet during that entire time the breath of scandal never touched his fair name. God never made a more honest man, nor one more unselfish. He was the friend of humanity, and he was one of the few men who attain public station to adorn it with their generous deeds. Although one of the most brilliant orators in congress, and a man of superior culture and acquirements, Mr. Cox did not seek to win fame for himself by his oratory or by an exhibition of his learning. He preferred to devote his time and his talents to things that would be of public utility and have a permanent value. Among the many proud monuments of his public life that he has left behind him, there will be none to reflect more luster on his memory than the life-saving service, of which he was the originator and the consistent champion. He was authority on all nautical matters, and any suggestion that he made in regard to the preparation of a census bill was accepted by congress without any word of question. He believed ardently in the expansive principle of the republic, and was always numbered among the foremost advocates of the admission of new states. By his individual efforts more than all other influences, the four new stars from the Northwest were added to the nationalsphere. This was the last and crowning achievement of his long and useful public life. He was looking forward to the next extension of our domain, affording him an opportunity to secure more liberal appropriations for the improvement of the national park in the Yellowstone basin. He had been one of the earliest advocates of setting apart this territory for park purposes, and always gave a warm support to every measure calculated for its improvement. During the recent summer he passed through this city on a splendid visit to the park and to the region beyond, and went back home bubbling with enthusiasm over the glories of the great Northwest. But death has intervened to take our friend from us. His eloquent lips are closed, and the warmest heart that ever beat in the breast of mortal is stilled forever.

A Marvelous Calf.

Adam Sell, a farmer of Schuyler county, Ill., is the possessor of a curiosity in the way of a newly born calf of marvelous form and figure. The animal is only half the ordinary size and its hide is entirely destitute of hair, the skin being of a pink color and smooth as the back of a Mexican dog. Instead of having hoofs like other animals of its kind its feet are formed of five distinct toes that have claws at the end like a those of a cat. The creature's ears are exceedingly small, in fact hardly visible. It has a resemble that of a monkey, and from the lower jaw project two fangs. The animal is exceedingly intelligent, and follows its owner about the lot, and gives every evidence of affection. Unable to believe his own ordinary calf, yet it is able to make a noise similar to that of a dumb person endeavoring to speak. Some people who have examined the animal are of the opinion that in time it will be able to talk at least as well as a parrot. Mr. Sell has already been offered a big sum for the animal, but refuses to part with it at any price.

Match Game of Cricket Between Brainerd and Como.

The return match game between the N. P. C. C. of Brainerd and the N. P. C. C. of Como was played on Saturday last on the ground of the latter at Hamline, and, after a very pleasant game, resulted in a victory for Brainerd by 21 runs. The captain of the Como team won the toss and put Brainerd to bat, and N. W. Wheatley and J. Gardiner commenced the batting to the bowling of Nicholson and Coverdale, but were not very long together, Gardiner being bowled by Nicholson, and the 2 following wickets fell in quick succession, 4 wickets for the cost of 13 runs, which looked very cloudy for Brainerd. At this moment Peter Foy severed the center of the game, compiling a brilliant 21 before he succumbed to Nicholson. From this to the close of the innings it was very quiet, although J. Clark and C. Crust gave the Como boys a little trouble before they were disposed of, and the innings eventually closed for 39. Then came the time for the Brainerd boys to do their work with the bat, but the bowling of the Brainerd team was too good for them, especially W. D. McKay, he alone taking 6 wickets, and the first innings of Como closed for 29, or 30 runs behind the Brainerd score. In the second innings the Brainerd team were not quite so successful with bat, their innings closing for the total of 39, but the Comoes, as will be seen by the score, improved in their batting and made a much better score. Thus the game ended, as stated above.

After the game dinner was served and an elegant spread was prepared, twenty-eight setting down and doing ample justice to the good things provided. The cricketers again returned to the cricket ground, and with great coolness, but Como got tired and dressstumps. N. W. Wheatley deserves special mention for the admirable way in which he made the handsome score of 35 and not out. Thus ended a very pleasant game, and also a pleasant day, that will long be remembered by the Brainerd C. C. for the kind manner in which they were intertained by the Como C. C. A New England manufactures says that street musicians are a serious expense to the manufacturing companies in country towns. A gypsie girl playing on a tambourine recently passed his establishment, and, he says, cost the company about two hundred dollars. Every circus parade costs them hundreds of dollars, and when a minstrel brass band marches by it costs from $25 to$50.

Twenty-two negroes and possibly more, who were working on a cotton plantation at Port Isenrath the sod in Leflore county, Miss., resided with them during the interesting arrest. The leaders of the insurrection, George Allen and Oliver Cromwell, have not escaped, though the latter was shot after he was captured. Cromwell was caught in Jackson, but for some cause was soon turned loose. The negroes seem a knightly state of mind, and the whites are in a state of excitement. The negroes have threatened to burn every house in the county, and have every horse being closely guarded. Nine negroes have been killed. Many have left the fields, and the cotton and corn crops gather ed badly.

The murderers then broke open the safe, got a big lot of merchandise, after which the body of Walters was placed between two cord wood furnaces, which were set on fire. A man was found yesterday at the prairie about five miles from Canby, Minn., having in a near to as he ascertained, been murdered. At the coroner's inquest it was learned that he came from Minnesota, going out to Dakota. Not being satisfied with that country he came back, and had been working around a threshing machine for about two weeks, when he was taken sick. Then he hired to work for one Andrew Swenson hauling corn and other light work, and left the machine crew on Aug. 23. He stopped at Ernest Sievert's, 10 rods from the spot which was the last seen of him until found in the opposite direction to that from which he should have gone. As several deaths have found on his body and on the ground with the appearance of having been done with a sharp instrument, and as he had only several that he did not necessarily have to walk so hard, as he had none, there is no doubt as to the cause. The body was found by Ernest Sievert's niece when she was out berry picking. Miss Sievert informed the coroner that she found the body on the 25th, which was the last seen of him until found in the opposite direction to that from which he should have gone. Nothing could be found on his person, except a small Testament book marked F. Strand. As several deaths were

Dr. Talmage, Having Returned from a Trip, Delivers a Sermon from His Own Pulpit.

BROOKLYN, N. Y. Special: The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., was welcomed home Sunday by an overflowing congregation. At the opening of the service the hymn begin ning

"Welcome, sweet day of rest
That saw the Lord arise"

was sung with fine effect. Dr. Talmage's subject was "The Sunrise," and his text, "The day is at hand." Romans, xiii, 12. He said:

Back from the mountains and the seaside and the springs and the farm-house, your cheek bronzed and your spirits lighted, I hail you again with the words of Gehazi to the Shunam mite: "Is it well with thee? Is it well with thy husband? Is it well with the child?" Yes, we have come to the mark of recent grief, but all along the track of travel I saw the story of resurrection and reunion when all sense are done, the deep plowing of the keel followed by the flash of the gleaming oar.

Now that I have asked you in regard to your welfare you naturally ask how I am. Very well thank you. Whether on the bracing air of the Colorado mountains, 12,000 feet above the level of this sea, or the tonic atmosphere of the Pacific coast or a bath in the surf of Long Island beach, or whether it is the joy of standing in this great group of warm-hearted friends, or whether it is a new appreciation of the good, news of God I can not tell. I simply know I am grandly and gloriously and inexpressibly happy. It is said that John Mudford, the great Methodist preacher, occasionally got lost in his sermon, and to extricate himself he would cry "Hallelujah!" I am in no such predicament just now, but I am full of the same chronic fascination. Starting out with this morning on a new ecclesiastic year, I want to give you the key-note of my next twelve months' ministry. I want to set it to the tune of Antioch, Ariel, and Coronation. Into the spare we had a new step put in this engine—a new trumpet stop—and I want to put a new trumpet stop into my sermons.

The first ray of the dawn I see in the great and substantial of dogmatic nihilism human batchery. For the last twenty-five years these have been international differences which would have brought about a war in any other day but this when people so ably adjusted the scales, taking the place of the sword.

That Alabama question in my other age of the world would have caused war between the United States and England. Had was it settled? Per mer of war off the Narrows, or off Liverpool? By the gulf stream of the ocean crossed by a gulf stream of human blood? By the harbor of eastern commerce dried? No. A few men got into a quiet room at Geneva, and they talked it over and telegraph to Washington and to London. All settled. Peace! Peace! Peace! Pay to the United States the amount awarded—a few paltry more than she ought to have paid. But still all said Alabama boil is set. God—settled. Arbitration the wonderful battle

So the quarrel eight or nine years ago about the Canadian fisheries in my other age would have caused war between the United States and England. England said: "Pay us for the fisheries or we'll declare war." The United States said: "I will not pay you a dollar. Well, we compromised. Lgissa we had better leave the whole matter to a commission. The commission was appointed and the commission examines the affair, and the commission reports that the United States pay we need pay us $5,500,000. Now, I point of danger itself out, not to the present generation, but to our last grandchild, not to one hair or much as the scratch of a pin. Arbitration the wonderful battle

So the Samoan controversies in my other age would have brought about war between the United States and Germany. I will not pay my Uncle Sam's money to Bismarck. Well, we had better leave the whole matter to a commission. The commission is appointed and the commission examines the affair, and the commission reports that the United States pay we need pay us $500,000. Now, I point of danger itself out, not to the present generation, but to our last grandchild, not to one hair or much as the scratch of a pin. Arbitration the wonderful battle

So the Samoan controversies in my other age would have brought about war between the United States and Germany. I will not pay my Uncle Sam's money to Bismarck. But all settled. Arbitration is an unanswered question. I find another one of the clouds in the room, opinion of the world's destiny. What is how send the utmost impossible thing would have happened? Why, the world has with 1,000,000 men of population and no locks of wool on the shoulders, but now with 1,500,000,000 of population and no one has a sheep's skin on the scratch of a pin. There are a good many people who are not aware of the fact that raffles are against the law in this state. The penal code shows that any person who gets up such a scheme or assists in any such drawing is liable to imprisonment in the state prison for two years, and any person having anything to do with the sale of tickets or anything else pertaining thereto is guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to a fine and imprisonment. There probably is not a city in the state of its size that has as many raffles as Brainerd.

A meeting of the stockholders of the new bank will be held on Monday next to perfect a permanent organization and elect a president, vice-president and cashier, and at which time the final arrangements will be completed for opening the institution for business. At the meeting held on Monday last at which C. N. Parker presided, it was decided that $25,000 was all the capital that would be required at present and accordingly the subscriptions, which amounted to $33,000, was cut down to that amount, but the right is reserved to increase the stock to $100,000 at any time should the business require. The amounts subscribed by stockholders will be paid in on Monday next. The board of directors consists of C. N. Parker, H. W. Topping, Sam. Walker, J. J. Howe, J. W. Koop, J. N. Nevers, M. The shoot of the gun club on Tuesday was poorly attended on account of so many of the members being absent from the city in quest of real live birds. The first lodge remains in the hands of the secretary, no member making the requisite score of twelve or over to win it from I. U. White. The second badge was won by Ingersoll, and the six to ten badge by Westfall, he having to shoot off a tie for it with White and Veon. The score made was as follows:

White	1	1	1	1	0	1	0	1	0	1—8
Ball	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	0	1	1—9
McGrath	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	1	1	1—10
Atherton	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0—3
Ingersoll	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	1	1	1—9
Veon	1	0	1	1	0	1	0	1	0	1—6
Westfall	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	1	1	1—9
Daughtry	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0
Westfall	0	1	0	1	1	1	0	1	0	1—6

LaBar and Wolff came in after the regular shoot was over, making a score of six and eleven respectively, too late to compete for badges.

From 9 until 11 o'clock the wedding reception will take place. The occasion will be an elaborate one and has awakened much interest in society circles during the past week. Among the guests who will be present from abroad are Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Parker, Mr. A. A. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dana, Miss Irma Mueller, and Mr. Arthur Goodwin, of Minneapolis, Mrs. M. E. Charged With Rape.

Thos. Holdship was arrested on Sunday charged with having committed rape upon the person of Frances Henkel, a girl sixteen years of age. Holdship is a man probably 45 years of age, a painter by trade and has been in and about the city for some time. The girl has been in the habit of selling flowers about the streets, and she claims the man enticed her into his room in the Oth building and while there committed the deed. She was afraid to make the matter known and it was through other parties that Officer Deroech was make known of the facts. Holdship, we are informed, denies that any force was used, but says the girl willingly consented. He was brought before Judge Fleming on Monday afternoon, but the examination was continued until Tuesday, and he was bound over, and is in jail in default of bail. It is understood that his case will be brought direct before the grand jury, which will be in session at that time.

Will Help Loggers.

Work has been commenced with such vigor on the Duluth & Winnipeg railway that the probabilities are that the promise made that the loggers on the upper Missinippi will be able to take their supplies by rail this winter, will be fulfilled. Mr. C. H. Davis, one of the projectors of the road, is sanguine that this means a great deal to the loggers. He thinks if they can avoid the long tote road between Aitkin and Grand Rapids they will save 50 cents a thousand on the cost of getting out the logs. The opening of the road will come at an opportune time. Without it a good many loggers would have been put to the expense of hauling more than the average amount of hay into the woods. In ordinary years hay is readily cut in the "upper country," near the logging camps. But if the reports are to be believed, hay is scarce this season. It is likley, however, that much less logging will be done on the upper Mississippi this year than last, because so large a number of logs have been carried over in the streams.—Lumberman.

The Woolly West

Passengers on the Northern Pacific road are accustomed to all the delights of modern travel, another little innovation was given to east-bound passengers at Kimberly station Wednesday afternoon. A baggageman at Aitkin and the postmaster at Kimberly have long cherished a grudge, and they met Wednesday while the passenger train was at the latter station and fought it out according to the latest Northern Pacific Junction rules. Meanwhile the train was being delayed—but a hot box opportunity developed itself—until seven rounds had been fought and the spectators declared the affair a draw.—Duluth Herald.

The District Court.

The September term of the district court for the Fifteenth Judicial District will open in this city on Monday next at 11 a. m., Judge G. W. Holland presiding From present indications the term will be all of two weeks duration if not longer, depending considerably upon the action of the grand jury in matters that will be brought to their notice. In the two Hefferen cases against the Northern Pacific road special juries have been summoned. Through the courtesy of Deputy Clerk Chipperfield we are enabled to publish the calender below:

The Ball Game.

The game of ball at the fair grounds on Sunday last drew a large number of lovers of the game to that place to witness the contest between St. Cloud and the home nine. Our boys were outplayed by the St. Cloud umpire, assisted partially by the visiting nine as the score below will indicate. The St. Cloud boys have some heavy batters in their club but we doubt if they will beat the Brainerd club as badly on the return game which will be played at St. Cloud next week, provided an umpire is secured who knows a little bit about the game and is impartial:
