THE Bennett school law has been repealed by the Wisconsin democratic legislature.

A BILL has been introduced in the legislature requiring court commissioners to given a bond of $2,000.

THE customs revenue of Norway show an increase of $27,000 for the first six months of the present fiscal year, as compared with the corresponding time in the previous year.

IN this issue we present the tax list of Crow Wing and Cass counties. The document is one that should be carefully scanned by every real estate owner and filed away for future reference.

WHEN Bob Ingersoll and Ignatius Donnelly meet in joint debate in St. Paul in March it is expected that the heavens will be shaken by the oratory. Donnelly is getting so he isn't afraid to tackle anything.

THE Minnesota Editorial Association has been enjoying an annual session in St. Paul this week. A mammoth tax sale and financial statement to get into type prevented a representative from the DISPATCH being present.

A BILL has been introduced in the legislature to provide for the municipal suffrage for women. The bill provides that women shall be permitted to vote at all city elections and also eligible to hold municipal offices. If the bill passes Brainerd will have a female mayor—see.

MR. FINO, of Kandiyohi, has introduced a bill providing for the organization of a free text book commission. It is to consist of five members, three chosen from the principals of the city schools, one from the superintendents of the state schools, and one from the county superintendents.

THE democrats in Wisconsin are getting scared over their legislature judging from the Oshkosh Times, a democratic organ: "We trust that the present legislature will develop a treasury watch dog. If all the appropriations asked for are granted there will not be enough of the public funds left to buy nuts for the squirrels in capitol park."

THE Northern Pacific railroad, so one of its prominent officials informs us, will shorten the line between this city and Minneapolis eighty miles next summer. The road intends to shorten it by making a cut from Staples to Fertile. If this is done, Crookston will be a division terminus and probably the general division headquarters will be located here.—Wadena Tribune.

The surveying party which had been at work for two weeks selecting the most feasable route for a wagon road from Motley to Leech Lake, completed its task and returned to this place Monday afternoon, the work was in charge of H. S. Clyde, county surveyor, of Little Falls, and the axmen, chainmen, flagmen, etc., were Motley citizens. A very favorable route was found, that will require but 160 rods of corduroy its entire length. The party did not go through to the lake, but struck an old road about sixteen miles this side of the town. The road through which the proposed road passes is fertile and being slowly settled up, but with a good highway from the railroad it would develope rapidly and soon become one of the best portions of the state, as it contains a good combination of timber, meadow, water and fertile brush prairie.—Motley Register.

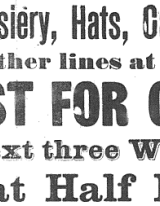
Now They Howl.

C. B. Buckman is one of the most wily politicians in the state, and hesitates at nothing which will advance his own interests. C. B. Buckman is to blame for the defeat of the Republican ticket in the 46th district, and will most likely be rewarded by a remunerative office. Such schemers should be sent to the rear.—Todd Co. Argus.

The defeat of the entire republican legislative ticket in this district is due no more to C. B. Buckman than it is to the Todd county delegation and the Argus well knows it. That delegation nominated Mr. Flynn for the purpose of doing the ticket up and the disaffection in other counties, which was known to exist, made it possible to consummate the scheme.

Game Law Tinkering.

A new game law bill has been sent up by Senator Crandall. It was prepared by men especially interested in the preservation of game, and is claimed to be a more effective measure than any yet proposed. The bill relates only to deer, elk, moose or caribou, and prohibits killing these animals except in the month of November, and then only by firing a gun held in the hand. No traps, pitfall, spring guns or such devices may be used at all. It is made unlawful to offer for sale any venison such game except during November and up to Dec. 16, though it is provided that consumers purchasing from markets, commission houses and the like shall not be liable. Railway and express companies are prohibited from transporting such game. Violators of any of the provisions of the act are to be punished by a fine of not less than $50 for the first offense, $75 for the second offense and $100 for subsequent offenses, and in default of payment by imprisonment of not less than one, two or three months, according to number of offenses. Indians living on reservations are not allowed to kill the above named animals, nor any game animal or bird off from their reservation.



A pamphlet of information and the advice of the best, showing how to obtain Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, and how to transact business in the Patent Office, sent free. Address MUNN & CO., 361 Broadway, New York.

The figure 9 in our dates will make a long step. No man or woman now living will ever date a document without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1893, when it will remain ten years and then move up to second place in 1920, where it will rest for one hundred years.

There is another "9" which has also come to stay. It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respect that it has already moved up to first place, where it will permanently remain. It is called the "No. 9" High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

The "No. 9" was endorsed for first place by the experts of Europe at the Paris Exposition of 1889, when, after a severe contest with the leading machines of the world, it was awarded the only Grand Prize given to a family sewing machine, all others on exhibit having received lower awards of gold medals, etc. The French Government also recognized its superiority by the decoration of Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, President of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The "No. 9" is not an old machine improved upon, but is an entirely new machine, and the Grand Prize at Paris was awarded it as the greatest advance in sewing machine mechanism of the age. Those who buy it can rest assured, therefore, of having the very latest and best.

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA.

The labor bill now before the German reichstag provides for the rigid enforcement of Sunday rest.

It will be a relief to many tired readers when the indefatigable correspondents and reporters succeed in persuading themselves to let Robert Ray Hamilton rest.

At Zschoppau, in Saxony, a man was fined $5.50 by the police for inscribing his occupation on the census blank as "a starving weaver." Truth isn't wanted very much there.

As Indianapolis man challenges another to a contest in getting off trains while going at full speed. If people will indulge in this sort of sport it is a contest to a finish.

Elk's tongue is said to be one of the choicest delicacies known to epicures. Doubtless there are times when John L. Sullivan feels as if he could cram it the entire animal.

Daniel Webster is said to have been the first editor of the first college paper published in the country, the initial number appearing at Dartmouth in 1800. These journals now number 1,200 in the United States.

The funeral of John C. Keeble, formerly city editor of the Seattle, Wash., Journal, and who died in that city a few weeks ago, will be held at Quincy Friday afternoon.

A joint resolution was offered in the Ohio legislature Monday to request Sherman to vote against the admission of Senator-elect Brice to the United States senate on the ground that he is not a resident of Ohio, but of New York.

Rev. Dr. Hasselquist, for thirty years president of Augustana college and for forty years the senior minister of the Augustana synod, died suddenly at his home at Rock Island, Ill. He was born at Stora, Sweden, in 1816.

The body of the young man who cut his throat in the Astor house New York, and who had registered as "Fred Grant, Galena," proved to have been identified. A sailor who knew the man identified him as the body as that of Frederic Evans, a well known seaman of that name.

UNFORTUNATE EVENTS.

Nine children were burned to death and several others fatally injured by a fire in an orphan asylum at Cincinnati.

Elmer Clark, superintendent of the Kansas City & Memphis railway company, was shot dead. He was standing in front of a grip car which started suddenly.

All of the fishermen caught in the ice floe near Bay City Mich., with two exceptions, have been safely landed from their floes and are thought to be safe.

A passenger near Waterville, Me., was thrown from the platform of a moving train and instantly killed. The train was not stopped but is running and is supposed to have carried the body. The other inmates suffered terribly from the cold.

From some cause as yet unknown a fire broke out on the stable of Hawden & Sherman in Boston early one morning and nearly two hundred horses perished in the flames.

At 2:25, the patient at a Kansas City hospital afflicted with consumption, and upon whom Dr. Bunn of Kansas City, Kan., performed the famous "Bunn" cut, died. The coroner will make a post mortem examination.

The works of the East Claire Gas company blew up with tremendous force and one half of the plant was utterly destroyed. Richard Pfeil, who was in charge of the works at the time, was seriously hurt. John Hoffman, a workmen, was dug out of the debris by the firemen and will recover. The property loss is $10,000.

It is certain that the severest cold spell seen in the Harden mine disaster are all dead miners. They are now entombed in their chambers. The water on the pitch of the slope for about 200 yards, is 10 feet. The other point that any of the breasts reached, was timbered, but are not known as they could die from suffocation long before the rescuers can be opened.

News of a serious wreck on the Cotton belt railroad six miles south of Carendon, Ark., has reached Little Rock. The fast south bound passenger train which left Pine Bluff at 7:30 p. m. Monday ran into an open way mine people were killed, another only fatally and still another dying. The railroad mean that only a fireman was killed and the dead are all negroes.

A fire in the five-story building at Green Point, L. I., occupied by E. D. Church as a soda water factory, caused a loss estimated at $200,000 to stock and building. The entire block is occupied by the factory and has 20 tanks containing 5,000 gallons each in the factory and Brooklyn oil works were on fire. The efforts of the firemen were successful and there will be little if it probable that the oil works will be saved.

WAYS OF THE WICKED.

At Friar's Point, Miss., three negroes confined in jail set the building on fire and were burned to death.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bauer were murdered at Ballyjamesduff, county Cavan, Ireland. It is an atrocious crime.

At Clark's, Neb., the residence of Banker Cowles was burglarized. Cowles was knocked senseless and his wife bound. The burglars secured about $50 in cash and escaped.

The Mexican police arrested Jesus Redhoy, who is wanted in Canada on the charge of robbing the Bank of Montreal of cash and securities amounting to $200,000. Henry's big haul was made Dec. 12 last.

The weapon lay on the bed and he was not discovered till 6 the following day. Letters on the bureau bear the name and photograph of a woman, upon the back of which was written, "She is the cause of my death. I cannot live without her." He is ordered from Colorado and is a stranger here.

James Walker, a night workman on the Kansas City, Kansas & Gulf railroad, at Kansas City quarreled with his wife, and without apparent provocation suddenly made a lunge at her and stabbed her under the left eye with his pocket knife seriously, then carried her to the railroad store, purchased a ticket for Dallas, Texas, ran Burkmah took her from the store. Walker escaped to Kansas City where he was arrested. Mrs. Walker is dying.

Two masked men entered the home of Mc-Lysville, an isolated railroad town in the northern part of Missoula county, Mont., and shot dead the wife of a miner, after they masked men took $700 and escaped to the mountains. An hour after the murder Deputy Sheriff Sprague was in pursuit, and since his arrival he sent the news that all the tragedy, nothing has been heard of the officer and it is believed he is dead. Meanwhile, A posse has gone in search of the missing deputy.

Charles and Eugene Duryea, two green goods swindlers, were arrested by Constable Schreve near Union City, Pa., in a very clever manner. They had made an appointment with Miss M. Walrod, a butcher, to meet him in the woods near that place, and for $600 deliver to him $9,000 in spurious money. Walrod consealed Constable Schreve (in a large meat box) in his wagon, where the officer overheard all the conversation, and at the proper time with the aid of Walrod captured the swindler. Emma Duryea, a sister of the defendants, is now under bail to appear at the next term of the quarter sessions to answer to the same charge. More arrests will follow.

What Penn Said to Dean Swift.

When Swift was visiting Pennsylvania Penn was entertaining him at dinner and told a story told by William Penn to Dean Swift some time about 1700. "I was very well acquainted with Penn," said Swift, "and he did assure me that Pennsylvania wanted the shelter of mountains, which left it open to the northern winds from Hudson's Bay and Canada, which destroyed all the fruit and all plantations of trees, and was even pernicious to all commerce and peoples," but indeed, Swift adds, "New York, Virginia and other parts less northerly, do not suffer these inconveniences by mountains, are described as excellent countries. The map was written about 1728, when Dr. Franklin was employed by the Philadelphia from England, where he could have got it. Swift knew that the truth about trees and vegetables in America. Even in Ireland, where Swift lived then, it was hard to get trees grow, for he says: "By the continual blowing of warm and moist winds, and very little cold, the trees will be generally blown up by the roots,

WM. HACK.

The police raided a bawdy house on fourth street south, on Saturday, and as a consequence Mrs. Winters, Miss Tifft and Miss Hicks were brought before the court. The first named individual, who by the way has a very unsavory record, was fined $25. The girls were fined $10 and costs, sentence being suspended pending good behavior.

The subject at the First M. E. church on Sabbath morning will be "The Fathers' Plea." Evening subject "Woman's Work." The mid-winter picnic of the M. E. Sabbath School will be in the church Friday evening, Feb. 20, commencing at 7 o'clock, to which all friends of the church are invited. Bring your lunch in a basket. Ten cents admission will be charged to all outsiders of the Sabbath School.

A. J. Brosseau paid over to Mrs. Sundberg this morning the amount of her claim against the New York Life Insurance Co., $1037, on account of policy held by the late P. G. Sundberg. The claim was presented to the company on Jan. 20th, the proof was completed on the 26th, and the amount of the claim was paid on Feb. 13th, which is an excellent showing for the company. Mr. Brosseau is the traveling agent of the New York Life, and left on the noon train for Grand Forks.

There was a large attendance at the Congregational church dedication at this place Sunday afternoon and evening. The services in the afternoon were conducted by Rev. J. W. Frizzell, of Brainerd, and in the evening there were sermons by Revs. Edwards, of Wadena; Cable, of Brainerd; Earl, of Minneapolis; and Frizzell, of Brainerd. Mrs. C. W. Elston and Mrs. Price, of Verndale, assisted the local choir. $83 were raised to apply on the church debt, which is now reduced to $100. The building is 35x50 feet, with a nicely finished interior and cost $1,150.—Prosto Change.

Wm. Frances, assistant state secretary of the Minnesota Association, will conduct the young men's meeting at the rooms next Sunday at 3:30 p. m.* The gentleman's address will be of special interest to the members of the association, but all young men are cordially invited. On the following Sunday Mr. H. E. Brown, international secretary, will address the young men at their rooms, and will spend Feb. 20 to 22 with the association on his return trip from the Manatoba annual convention. You cannot afford to miss these meetings.

A Social Hit.

Such was the masquerade ball given by the Chenquatana Club on Monday evening. Long before the masked revelers began to arrive the seating and standing room in the spacious rink was occupied by an anxious throng of spectators and special attention was given to each disguised individual as he, or she, as the case might be, entered the hall. In fact we believe those who composed the lookers-on enjoyed the party as well as the vast crowd that made up the merry throng of dancers in their graceful, and in many instances grotesque costumes. The grand march took place at 9:15 and was led by Miss May Campbell and F. A. Farrar, representing Columbia and Uncle Sam respectively, and it was an imposing spectacle, there being over 100 couples in the procession. The climax was capped, however, when "King Bill" made his appearance, led in by Barnum's boss clown. The clown was Charlie Johnson, while Bill was none other than A. F. Peers and W. A. M. Johnston. The representation was true to life and as a gentleman at our elbow remarked, was worth the price of admission. At 11 o'clock the party unmasked and while many dispersed to their homes a majority remained and dancing was continued until 1 a. m. The party was a complete success in every particular.

Froze His Legs.

The section men who run west from Gull River, on Tuesday morning found a man in the unused depot at Sylvan Lake in a very serious condition, and they at first thought he was dead, but upon examination he was found to be faintly breathing. The man was frozen, having been in the building since the night before. He was taken to Gull River and his legs placed in cold water to draw the frost out and then brought to Brainerd and taken to the county farm. The man is a tramp, and claimed to hail from New York. He was walking along the track and being exhausted and cold, he went into the depot to rest and was in the act of changing his stockings when he fainted, or as he says seemed to become numb all over so if in a paralytic fit, and he laid on the floor until found. We understand that it is probable his legs will both have to be amputated. His name could not be learned.

The Relief Society.

The pillow for which the ladies of the relief society have been selling tickets, was raffled at Johnson & Bain's drug store, No. 161, drawn by Mr. Carl Snyder, being the lucky number. The sum of $75 was realized from the enterprise, and a good many more tickets would have been sold had not some of the ladies been sick. During the past six months only six families have applied and been helped, half the number that was aided the same month last winter.

Death of D. H. Hughey.

News was received this morning of the death of D. H. Hughey, a resident of the town of Long Lake, of typhoid pneumonia. The deceased was 27 years of age and had been a resident of this county since 1867, coming from Nelson, Tioga Co., Pa. He had been sick but a few days, but his death was not unexpected as his disease had taken a decided turn for the worse yesterday morning. He was universally respected, and leaves a wife and one son to mourn his demise. The arrangements for the funeral have been made for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Presbyterian church.

Manager Alexander Talks

BOSTON DISPATCH—Will you kindly allow me some of your valuable space to reply to statements published in your paper two weeks ago and the uncalled for article in the last issue of the Tribune. The first in relation to the "Standard Opera Co. busting at St. Cloud and Manager Davidson donating money enough to send the people home," which was copied from a St. Cloud paper, and to it I will say that it is a lie pure and simple, and Manager Davidson will substantiate this, I am sure. To the other article in the Tribune under the caption, "The Audience did not Materialize," because of my parsimonious action, I will also give the lie direct and think I can satisfy any of my patrons or unprejudiced persons. The club referred to are under contract with the Slayton Lyceum Bureau, of Chicago, and receive a stated sum per concert for a stated number of concerts. The manager of the bureau had correspondence with me some three months ago regarding a course of lectures and concerts, but as such entertainments have never been successful financially, I refused to entertain the proposition, but on Jan. 29th I received a telegram as follows:

"Can give you Boston Ideal Banjo Club, Feb. 4th, stating terms."

I replied by wire the same day accepting the date offered, and received no further word until Monday, Feb. 2, after distribution of afternoon mail. I received a letter informing me printing had been sent, and went to the express office and got the folders and lithographs, the only printing furnished, and put it out, this on Monday evening, the company to be here Wednesday evening, and because I did not advertise in the papers they had no house. The programs sent me by Mr. Lansing, musical director, I received Thursday morning and opened it in his presence conclusively proving, as I should think, that in this case at least I could not well have advertised in the local papers. Another thing Mr. Tribune, the Wilson Theater Co. did the largest business ever done in this city for years, on Saturday evening "standing room" sign being up, and not a line in the local papers by any knowledge of mine. I believe the Tribune which came out the same Saturday evening had a thirty line notice, perhaps that was the cause of the standing room sign being used, but I am inclined to think it was pleasant performances assisted by the drawing powers of a bed room suit to be given to the holder of the lucky number. Perhaps the editor of the Tribune will next inform their readers they would have been at the concert had they only known it. Well if so it would have been a surprise to me at least, for their old familiar places are all filled with strange faces since the striking off of the dead-head ticket system, and it was also very noticeable their patronage of the theatre quit about the same time. Now I think this is the same spot, and I can assure them I will advertise or let it alone as suits me. The managers whom I make contracts with are satisfied with my way of doing business, in proof of which I hold contracts from companies for a second date. I think, from patronage kindly bestowed, taken into consideration the hard times, that the paying public are satisfied with the class of entertainments I have furnished so far and the company playing behind the footlights can work with a heart, also knowing that the people occupying choice seats have paid for them and are entitled to the best they can give. Under the old regime of eleven months ago, the management had a free list running from forty-two to fifty where up near a hundred. Today the management can ring up the curtain with less than six, including my own family, and while it may not suit Mr. Tribune it suits me. I pay for what I get from the printer—if he wants to go to the show he pays, I see nothing unfair in this. After cutting off the dead-heads I gave advertisements, also press notices, and paid for them. In return I received information (I know to be reliable) that the Tribune had quit patronizing the opera house. I fail to see where I was any loser, but I also eased up on my advertising, and then you hear the roar. They actually devote a space which they would charge me a dollar and thirty-five cents for to tell their readers I don't know how to manage the advertising department of an opera house. They did not devote any space to tell who won the bed-room suit because there was no chance to score me.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I would say the city has better bill boards and in more conspicuous places than ever before, and I will leave it to my patrons also I will bet them my part of $400 that I have paid more cash for printers' ink than ever paid the year before I came, and when I am troubled about any details of management I will call on them if I think they can furnish the needed information. Also, in their wild desire for advertising matter, to get the boys from me when they expect to get the pay from me, was a thirty line notice of Wilson Theatre Co., furnished by I do not know who, and billed to me. Also, while I am here any fault to find with me, get your money straight, and then come to me often as you like, but be honest enough to acknowledge it is the soreness caused by cessation of dead-headism.

Roscoe Whitcomb of Walco, Mo., has a shepherd dog which he prizes highly. One day last week a colt that was fastened by a halter got his feet through the stall and fell in such a manner that he was choking to death. The dog was in the barn, saw the trouble, and, running to the house, caught Mrs. Whitcomb by the dress and attempted to pull her out of doors. The dog would run toward the barn and then catch Mrs. Whitcomb by her clothes. She finally went to the barn, arriving just in time to save the colt.

A Thief Detected.

"I'll tell you how I ran down a thief recently," said a man in the Lewiston, Maine, police station. "I lost $80 in money. I did not say a word. I did not even tell my wife. I hardly told myself. The other day, two years after the occurrence, a woman in my neighborhood said: 'By the way, did you ever find out who stole your $80?' I looked her in the face and said: 'I never did until just this minute.' She turned as pale as a ghost, and the result was that she paid me $80 and interest on the same for two years."
