PRESIDENT MCKINLEY HERE.

A Vast Crowd of People Await the Special Train Conveying the President and His Cabinet on His Way West.

The special train of six coaches carrying President McKinley and his cabinet arrived at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon and was greeted at the depot by a vast crowd of people who had assembled to do honor to the occasion, and it is safe to say that nearly every able bodied man, woman and child in the city and for miles around in the country was present during the few moments that the train stopped. The city schools were given a recess that the rising generation might have a chance to gaze upon the chief executive of the nation. The train pulled into the station and was stopped at the west side of the Sixth street crossing immediately under a large banner which contained the words "Welcome President McKinley and Cabinet." Both bands were in attendance and lent their assistance in making the welcome a hearty one.

When the train stopped the president appeared upon the platform of the rear car, and was greeted with enthusiastic cheers by the assembled thousands. As soon as the cheering ceased somewhat, he made a short speech dwelling upon the thought that the safety of the Republic was the home and fireside and the maternal influence. He then introduced the attorney general, who is also Secretary of the Interior. Secretary Wilson was next introduced and made a short speech in which he also Secretary of the Interior. The president, in introducing Secretary Hitchcock said he had charge of the census, and looking over the vast throng of people added that he thought to-day would be a good day to take the census. Secretary Long of the Navy was introduced and was greeted with a cheer which indicated how popular is the navy in the public esteem. Calls were made for Mrs. McKinley but she was unable to appear, but several ladies received a bow and a smile from her through the car window. The train then pulled out amid the wild cheering of the vast crowd.

Frank Day, who is company with his wife has been spending the summer at Ft. Ripley with relatives, died very suddenly there on Tuesday from apoplexy. His home is in New York.

The "Husking Bee" Entertainment. The first "Husking Day" concert was held at St. Paul's Guild room on Tuesday evening last, and was well attended. The cast of characters is an exceptionally strong one and the piece will undoubtedly be presented in a very smooth manner, as all appear enthusiastic over their work. The "Bee" bubbles over with rollicking fun, and is enlivened with many bright and pleasing musical specialties, introducing several entirely new and novel features. It is bound to "take." The next rehearsal will be held at the Guild room on Tuesday evening next, at 8 o'clock, and every member of the cast is desired and expected to be present, as the date of the entertainment is to be decided, and other details are to be arranged.

N. P. Library Entertainment. The 18th annual entertainment and ball for the benefit of the N. P. Library Association will be held at Gardner Opera House on Friday evening, Nov. 3. These annual entertainments are the only means employed by the association to raise money to meet the expenses of the association, hence every citizen should contribute his mite to such a worthy cause by investing in a ticket, whether able to be present or not. These entertainments each year are very pleasing and entertaining, the best obtainable local talent being secured for the literary and musical part, and the dance is always one of the most enjoyable of the season. The tickets also entitle each N. P. employe to one year membership in the association.

WILL IMPROVE THE LIGHT PLANT

The City Council on Decides at a Special Meeting Held on Tuesday Evening.

The city council held a special meeting on Tuesday evening to consider the report of the electric light committee recommending that the plant be improved, so as to furnish lights for all who desire them. After considering the committee's report for some time, and listening to explanations of the plans and specifications by Mr. P. L. Page, a hydraulic engineer employed by Little Falls Water Power Co., the council on motion of Alderman Cohen, adopted a resolution that the council improve the plant according to plans and specifications on file with city clerk, and that Mr. Page be engaged at $5 per day to conduct the work, Mr. Page agreeing to forfeit his pay if the work was not done according to the plans and specifications. The resolution was adopted without a dissenting vote.

For some years the question of improving the electric light plant has been agitated by our citizens, because in the present condition it could not supply the demand for lights. The council has hesitated to do so because of a suit with the dam company which involved the right of the city to use more power, but that being settled, the council this spring employed an expert from the Globe Iron Works of Dayton, Ohio, to inspect the plant and report improvements necessary to put it in first class shape and capable of supplying all demands for incandescent lights and furnishing 50 arc lights. Plans and specifications were made by the expert and paid for by the city covering the improvements needed. The plans contemplated the purchase of two new generators of 2,400 lights capacity, putting in of a new arc system and the making of alterations at the power house which would furnish ample power, only 175 horse power being developed at present, while the wheel in use was rated at 350 horse power, but owing to the improper way in which it was set only half power was developed. The new plans require the building of a larger flume and the use of an additional wheel, the old one taken out some years ago, which will generate three times the power in use at present. The city bought one new generator when a break down occurred some time ago, and will now purchase another to be installed when the improvements at the power house are finished. The council has been unable for some time to get a capable engineer to do the work, but Mr. Page has now been secured, and estimates the work at the power house can be done for $4422 which is about two thousand dollars less than other estimates made, and as he has the best of recommendations the council deemed it advisable to make the improvements at once, and engage Mr. Page to conduct the work, which Mr. Page estimates will take six or seven weeks. Mr. Page says that the plant can be operated while the work is progressing, except about a week, when every one who wants lights can have them as fast as they can be installed.

The entire improvements will cost nearly $5,000, but the present demand for lights will insure additional revenue of $250 a month, which will pay for the improvements in three years. The cost of operating will be the same as at present, no extra help being needed.

A Fine Property. The B. & N. M. railroad has just issued its annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30th, which shows the property to be a money earner. The gross earnings for the year were $228,226.22. The operating expenses were $130,405.62, leaving net earnings $98,820.60. There was a surplus on hand, June 30 1899, of $35,052.

TREASURERS are republican times. When one compares them with the democratic times a few years ago, it is beyond our comprehension how any sane man could vote so as to make a return of them a possibility.

CONSCIENCE

Written for Him Who Wants to Read.

My conscience hath a thousand several tongues, and every tongue brings in a several tale.

Well speaks Bishop, and they who conscience And they should be his language of.

Conscience is the eye of the soul. It stands guard over the actions of man and dictates as to what are his rights and human wrongs.

Turn again to that old picture of the good Samaritan. How different was his conscience from that of the priest and Levite differed from the Samaritan's.

Many parents and teachers lose sight of the fact that the child is a conscientious being. They seem to think that the only voice that will speak to the child is the voice of the teacher.

Thanks to the man who discovered the art of leading a child by its conscience. In the desert of Sahara, caravans are often guided by the voice of a bell, or by the driver going before them singing some of the songs of the desert.

The moral imperative is present in the child as well as in the grown-up man. I think it is safe to say that the voice of conscience is more apparent and more forcible in the child than in an adult.

How mysterious it seems that this should be true, yet it is. The false king in Hamlet betrays his own treachery. Macbeth did the same. Why is it?

The truth lies in the fact that man is of a dual nature, the inner man and the outer man. The inner voice or voice of conscience is ignored, but not silenced, it keeps gnawing away and sooner or later there will come a time when the voice of conscience will betray the false man.

Let us be careful to make our physical man follow the dictates of our inner man.

For where both forces act as one, the man is happy and contented. Peace and goodness attend their every step.
