M. E. CONFERENCE NOW IN SESSION.

About Two Hundred Ministers and Their Wives are Attending.

APPOINTMENTS MADE MONDAY.

Proceedings of the Conference Up to the Time of Going to Press.

At seven o'clock Monday night the arrival of ministers of the Northern Minnesota conference of the M. E. church commenced. More came at midnight and still more at four o'clock in the morning. Those who were among the early arrivals are younger men of the conference who are to take examinations in the studies required of the young preachers, and those in charge of the examination. The examinations were conducted at the Y. M. C. A. building during the day and were in charge of Rev. C. F. Sharpe, pastor of Trinity church, Minneapolis. Those being examined are Revs. F. A. Lawson, Crookston; E. M. Cartwright, Staples; Geo. W. B. Snell, Paynesville; James Dyke.

During the session of the conference there will be thirty-eight of the undergraduate preachers undergo examinations to test the thoroughness of the studying that they have done during the past year. The studies are similar to the course in theological schools and cover a period of four years.

On the arrival of the noon trains the ministers were directed to Walker's Hall, where a bountiful lunch had been provided by the ladies of the local churches. This hall has been engaged for the entire session of the conference and about forty of the visitors will be boarded there. Rev. Clink has engaged a competent woman to take charge of the culinary arrangements.

During the afternoon the clergy men were assigned to the home in which they are to be entertained during their stay in the city. The work of distributing them was carried out under the direction of Rev. Clink, who was assisted by R. G. Valentyne and Paul Haight. About a dozen boys and girls placed themselves at the disposal of these gentlemen to act as pages and aided in caring for the guests very largely.

Bishop Cranston, who presided at this conference, is perhaps as many know as any man in the Methodist church in this country, having been for years connected with the western department of the M. E. church publishing house of Cincinnati, O. He was at one time a member of the Colorado conference. This was before he was connected with the publishing house. He was elected to a bishopric in 1892. His home at present is in Portland, Oregon.

Bishop Cranston seems very well pleased with his visit to this state. He states that the conference at Chastfield was especially interesting and he is delighted with the prospects for a rising conference in this city.

The conference was formally opened Tuesday night, when a reception was tendered to Bishop Cranston, who will preside at the conference, and other pastors who are here to attend the session. Gardner hall was packed and the evening was a delightful one for all.

Dr. Robert Forbes, presiding elder for this district, presided at the Duluth district, officiated as chairman of the deliberations, and in his few opening remarks he recited "a happy memory in his characteristic way what he thought it would be possible for Brainerd to do in the way of hospitality, etc. Prayer was offered by Dr. Polder, and immediately afterward Mayor A. J. Halsted was called upon to give the welcome address on behalf of the city. After extending a hearty welcome Mayor Halsted said:

"Brainerd is a city of bright and happy homes, of contented, prosperous and law-abiding working people. We are all bread-winners in Brainerd. Ours is a city of schools, of churches, of manufactures, a healthy city, a growing city, a hustler among cities, a city of life, progressive and public-spirited business men of pretty women, and—of God."

"The city of Brainerd, it must be remembered, is barely thirty years old. But during its brief existence it has experienced the usual ups and downs peculiar to most western towns. The growth of the city has been greatly retarded because of the well known fact that most of the smaller towns in the vicinity have been peopled by her citizens. The neighboring villages of Staples, Wadena, Bemidji, Cass Lake, Pequot, Ellinger, Pine River and others, were built up by Brainerd people, who left the parental roof to go out into the big world and begin life on their own account. If the state of Virginia the Old Dominion, entitled to be called the 'mother of Presidents,' Brainerd has certainly earned the right to be known as the 'mother of frontier towns.'"

"Poets have sung of the beauties of Brainerd, the 'City of the Pine,' but I wish to occupy your attention for a few moments in a more commonplace way, for I shall speak principally from a commercial or bread and butter point of view. "Perhaps you would be interested in hearing something about some of the more important industries of Brainerd. The main shops of the N. P. railroad are located here. The plant comprises 20 acres, of which some 12 or 13 are covered with buildings alone. The capacity of this plant has been almost doubled during the past two years by the erection of new buildings. Upwards of $400,000 has recently been expended in enlarging the plant and introducing new machinery. 750 men are employed and the pay roll last month aggregated $400,000, but the number of employees will necessarily be increased in the near future.

Among the great industries of the northwest the Brainerd Lumber Co. occupies a conspicuous and leading place. The plant of the company is one of the finest lumber properties of the state. When it started it had the capacity of the mill from 50 to 55,000,000 per annum, with an average daily shipment of 20 cars of lumber, some idea of the magnitude of the business may be realized. The mill is operated day and night, giving employment to 600 men with a monthly pay roll of nearly $30,000. About 600 men are employed in the woods during the winter season, and are brought to the mill by rail. A modern planing mill in connection with the mill turns out 300,000 feet of dressed lumber during a run of 10 per month.

"The new Minn. & International railroad, which was built as a logging road several years ago, pays out about $7,000 monthly to its employees in this city.

Rev. A. H. Carver gave an address of welcome on behalf of the churches of the city. In his remarks he stated that the convening of so great a body of gentlemen in the city, representing such a strong church body as the Methodist Episcopal church, was an honor to Brainerd and he believed it would be a good thing and hoped that all would be helped by their presence—spiritually and intellectually. He was sure that all the churches of the city would unite in extending the brethren a hospitable welcome, Presbyterians, Congregational, Baptists, Catholics and all denominations.

Dr. Forbes then called upon Bishop Cranston for the response to the address of welcome. Immediately after the address by Bishop Cranston, the anniversary of the Freedman's Aid and Southern Educational Society was celebrated. Dr. W. E. Thieland, secretary of this society, was present to give an address touching on the work of this great institution. Before he began his address the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" was sung by the audience.

Dr. William Fielder.
Rev. William Fielder, D. D., was born Oct. 13, 1852, in the county of Sussex, England. Was licensed as a local preacher in his 18th year. Two years later, entered the regular work of the ministry. Came to this country and joined the Northwest Iowa Conference in 1876. Served 16 years in South Dakota, two of them in the Black Hills. Was pastor of the First church, Minneapolis, for years. Is serving his third term as presiding elder. Was the last man to be appointed to this office by the late Bishop Simpson, and the youngest man up to that time in the history of the church. Wren 2000 ministers in town this week.

The Sixth district appears to be furnishing lots of amusement for the political guess writers of the Twin City papers.

Portages throughout the country have proved to be a much better crop than was at first predicted.

FAVORING lands in the Red River valley to the amount of $9,000,000 will be offered for sale during the month of October by State Auditor Dunn.

BYVAN'S tribute to the memory of William McKinley has caused more favorable comment from the press of the country than any other eulogy ever made by that gentleman.

The remains of the traitor who assassinated President McKinley should not find resting place on the soil of this country.

If the people of New York defer by their votes the candidacy of Seth Low for mayor it will be because a majority do not want a good, clean administration.

CONGRESSMAN McCLURE has silenced the gossip by announcing that he will not be a candidate for governor against Van Sant under any circumstances.

The war cry of the Chicago brewery strikers is "six bottles of beer a day or no work."

The gossip are again claiming that Tams Bliley will succeed Secretary Hitchcock.

ATKIN county wants the committee who are looking up the location for a sanitarium for consumptives to understand that they have no good advantages at Brainerd or any of the other places mentioned.

The city should put on its best bit and tuxer during the next six days. The impression created on the visitors among us will be carried to all parts of the state and the advertisement will certainly be to our advantage.

STATE SENATOR ROYER is ambitious for notoriety. He is credited with making the statement that the way to suppress anarchistic literature is to abolish all secret societies.

SAUK RAPIDS has compromised on the county seat contest, the people of Foley having purchased of the county the old court house and grounds and decided the same over to the village of Sauk Rapids as a basis of settlement.

A CHANGE was made in the law requiring a license to hunt big game at this season of the year.

WAGON POLICE are no longer to hunt big game.

TEMPERANCE people ought to help some but a bullet proof jacket will still be necessary to insure perfect safety to real hunters in the woods after Nov. 10th.

THE Gazette records the closing of lack of business and the probable closing of four more as soon as their licenses expire.

TO BE sure Oologas dies the death of a dog, but that is little satisfaction, merely a safe guard against his ever having the opportunity to again put into execution his anarchist designs.

BEMIDJI furnishes work for its police by instructing them to take into custody all children between 7 and 16 years of age found upon the streets during school hours without proper authority.

MINNEAPOLIS made quite a saving during the month of August, although the Ferguson Falls Journal insists on giving the board of control the honor.

WITHDRAWN FROM CONFERENCE

Rev. M. L. Hutton Severs His Connection With The Northern Minnesota Conference—Kettner's Paragraph.

Among the changes in the personnel of the Northern Minnesota Conference which affect and interest Brainerd and her people is the withdrawal of the Rev. M. L. Hutton from the conference and his entrance into the Congregational church.
Rev. Mr. Hutton has occupied one of the more prominent pulpits in the conference, among them being Anoka, Two Harbors and Warren. In the Minnesota Conference, Clason and Dower. For two years he served the Scott M. E. church of Wilmington, Delaware. During the ten years service in the Methodist connection he was regarded as a powerful preacher, an energetic pastor, and a competent administrator of the affairs of the charges placed under his pastorate. At all of these churches many material improvements and a large increase in membership and adherents remain as evidence of his faithful and capable work.

Since July Mr. Hutton has served the First Congregational Church of this city and has added to his "past reputation as a preacher, Mr. Hutton leaves the Methodist connection with the best wishes and regard of the conference from which he goes.

His future in the Congregational church here is certainly full of the brightest prospects as he is in the front rank of pulpits oratory in this state and his personal qualifications are such as attract and hold men to his friendship.

Cold weather is coming and if you want an overcoat or suit, or both, go to Zahrisman's tailor establishment on Front Street. You will there see the best selection of goods you have ever seen in this city, in all the up-to-date styles.

BRAINERD BEATEN BY AITKIN ATHLETES.

In the First Foot Ball Game in This City Saturday Afternoon.

BASE BALL GAME DIFFERENT.

The Brainerd Base Ballists Rub
It In Hard in a Game
Sunday.

The Brainerd High School eleven met defeat on the gridiron at the hands of the team composed of members of the Aitkin High School, although there are dozens in this city that are ready to wager that many of the young men who played with Aitkin are attending school as a secondary matter. It all shows that there is one thing sure that in this city that the fact that a boy over 21 years of age is in the High School gives ample reason for plausible conjecture.

However, Aitkin has a good foot ball eleven and the boys play a seamy game indeed, which shows that Prof. Torson, of the schools in that city, is a coager of the modern school. They weigh on an average from 150 to 160 pounds, while the boys from this city do not weigh over 135 pounds on an average. The Brainerd team was entirely outwitted and the game was one-sided that it was evident in the first and before the second half had been played many of the Brainerd boys were being taken care of by the Aitkin players. There was a good attendance, there being a large number who came down from Aitkin with their team and this number was augmented by another contingent from this city. The game was called at 3:42 o'clock at Swartz driving park.

It can be said for the home eleven that during the first half they played a snappy game and they held the Aitkin players down on the line rushes in great shape. Krantz as half back played a very good game. E. Boyle did some good tackling for a youngster and was in the game all the time. Lusk as center stood up against Safford, of Aitkin, who weighed at least 165 pounds.

On the toss up Brainerd got the ball and chose the south goal. Aitkin kicked off to about the thirty yard line and by a series of end plays made a touch down and kicked the goal in just four minutes. This looked pretty rocky for the home aggregation, and it was the same old story all the way through, the home eleven failing to hold them down and failing to make any of their plays "standup." At the end of the first half the score stood 17 to 6 in favor of Aitkin.

In the second half it was the same old story, the home team being rashed some harder. The balls were too long for the boys from Brainerd for they had not been used to the hard knocks. Three touch downs were made and two goals were kicked in each half, the total score being 34 to 0.

THE BALL GAME.

There is some consolation in the fact that Aitkin is not the wisest thing in the sporting world. While some of the gentlemen interested in base ball were in the city Sunday they asked if it was possible to get some of the members of the team in this city to go up there for a game yesterday.

A team was secured, but not all of the regular players went but there was enough material to win the game in a walk. J. Boyle pitched for Brainerd and Spooner was behind the bat. For Aitkin E. Rogers pitched half of the game, it was the sixth inning he thought it best to retire. Krelwitz was put in, but this did not stop the gut made by the home boys.

The game is said to have been a very poor exhibition, but the Brainerd boys feel particularly elated over the result. Nearly all the members of the regular Aitkin team played Sunday.

Sloopy Eye and Redwood Falls high schools Saturday played football, resulting in 28 to 10 in favor of Sloopy Eye.

The Winona normal school football team experienced little trouble in defeating the La Crosse High school team by 16 to 0. The La Crosse boys were outclassed.

The Minnesota University football team played the third game of its schedule on Northrop Field Saturday afternoon, defeating the team from Carleton college by a score of 38 to 0. With heavy snow for Carleton the exception, the variety might have with ease ran the score up past the 50 mark, but the contest was regarded by Dr. Williams as a mediocre game, and evidently satisfied with the showing made by the regulars in the first 20 minutes of play, he sent in almost the entire second team to start off the last half.

A Runaway Team Collides with Another Team just Beyond the N. P. Sanitarium Tuesday Morning.

Tuesday a team belonging to H. Swartz, which was being used on the excavation for the new Greenhagen building ran away and for the time made the dust fly. They ran west on Laurel street, across the bridge and down past the N. P. Sanitarium. The team overtook a four horse team being driven by one of the Barber men. Just then they reached the end of the wagon, the horses sprang and the neckyoke went up over the wagon wheels and caught the driver of the Barber team by the back of his neck and hoisted him to the ground. The runaway horses got mixed up with the other four horses and there was all kinds of trouble before the horses could be quieted down.

Chas. Ahrens, who was driving to the city had a close call, the runaway team nearly running into his team.

STRICT QUARANTINE WILL BE OBSERVED.

The United States Indian Agent
Returned Monday From Mille Lacs.

GREAT DEAL OF MALLOX.

But the Agent Says There is no Immediate Cause for Alarm.

United States Indian Agent Simon Mitchell returned Monday night from Mille Lacs lake where he went to investigate the smallpox scare among the Indians at that place, reporting having been sent out when the Indians were terror stricken. The conditions are rather critical and Mr. Mitchell will make his report to the government today.

While the Indians have been making considerable trouble and have threatened to go out past the lines established by the government physician, it is thought there will be no trouble, although some of the resident whites were very anxious to have troops called out when the Indian agent arrived on the scene.

At Camp Wigwag, near the bay, there are twenty-five Indians and there are three cases, but one of them is convalescent. At Camp Schoboragan there are forty Indians and of this number six or ten are sick with the contagion. Among this number there are some whose cases are very severe. Big Jack, a strapping buck, has been expected to die for days but has held out, and it is expected that he will recover. There is another buck among these Indians who is expected to live. The claim that prior to the visit of the government physician there were two deaths occurred. This is in Rolin township.

At Camp Lawrence there are thirty Indians and there are two cases, but one at Camp Hale two cases, but all these cases are said to be mild.

At Camp Ma-Zum-Na-Paint there are forty Indians but there is no smallpox although all the Indians have been exposed. At Camp Egan there are 100 and while the contagion has not broken out there are some suspicious cases reported.

A representative of The Dispatch, Mr. Mitchell said this morning: "While the situation among the Indians has been rather serious I do not think there is any cause for alarm, as the matter has been well taken care of by the government physician. The Indians were inclined to become hostile and there was considerable complaint among the whites many desiring that troops be called out, but I do not think there is any need to be alarmed over the matter at all. The government, through its physician, has co-operated with the lawless officers, and quarantine has been maintained and lines have been established. Of course it will be impossible to establish an individual quarantine, but the Indians will be kept within the lines and no one will be permitted to go in or out. The lines established by the government physician have been patrolled by township officers, but they will be relieved by Indian police from White Earth just as soon as I can reach there. The Indians agreed to stay within the lines after I had talked to them for sometime."
