DRAFTS ON ALL CITIES IN EUROPE.

E. H. MORFORD, CASHIER.

Dogs hereabouts seem to have become scarcer for some unaccountable reason.

MANY of our citizens, in their praiseworthy endeavors to make their homes attractive, are putting out currant bushes, and other shrubbery, and evergreens.

THE track this side of Bismarck, on the Northern Pacific, is now being put down at the rate of two miles per day. Inside of two weeks the train will be running through to the Missouri.

DUCKING and fishing parties are plenty now-a-days. One party, who were on ducks for a couple of days, we are informed, sold their game to a St. Paul restaurant keeper for $75.00 cash.

New time tables will probably go into effect on the three principal divisions of the Northern Pacific on Sunday, the 27th inst. Passenger trains, from east and west, will meet here about noon.

At the various section houses along the line, the section bosses are making themselves extensive gardens, which make their homes very attractive to travelers and "heartsome" for their families, as well as profitable.

CORRECTION.—One of our typographical artists made a mistake last week in the Good Templar election report. It should have read: "Mrs. J. S. Campbell, W. L. H. S.; Mr. J. S. Campbell, P. W. C. T." With this correction, the report is as it should be.

FOR the most complete stock of imported wines, liquors and cigars, the New Le Bon Ton is excelled by none. Ale and Porter a speciality, and at reasonable prices.

THE ferry wire broke, the other night, about 10 o'clock, and the boat, with the ferryman, W. W. Hartley and his team, started for New Orleans. They succeeded in rescuing themselves down at the Pop Factory. They heard the yellow fever was bad at New Orleans, and concluded to defer their visit to the crescent city until fall.

ONE of our special reporters (!) came in from his beat, on the morning of the 15th, and gave a glowing recital of the splendid entertainment given by the young people of Brainerd, in honor of Miss Jennie Tennis, who was expected home on the evening previous, after a long sojourn in one of our eastern schools. Although they were disappointed in not seeing the young lady in question, for reasons of necessary detention, yet a very pleasant evening was spent, and all went home declaring it the best entertainment of the season.

ALTHOUGH times are comparatively very quiet here at present, and probably will be during most of the summer months; still the real estate market is firm and steady, for all intelligent people know that the future of Brainerd, because of every natural reason, is bound to be a prosperous and successful one; five years—yes, three years—hence will find at least 5,000 permanent and solid inhabitants here, composed principally of the manufacturing and trading classes, while round about Brainerd, and up and down the river, will be scores of cozy and productive farms—for the Brainerd country can beat the State on every description of vegetables.

FIXED HER UP.—Capt. Houghton has engaged lumber with which to lengthen out the cabin of the steamer Pogo, and otherwise improve her accommodations for the passenger trade. The new cabin is to have a dozen or so comfortable sleeping berths, with sitting room, wash room, etc., so that ladies and gentlemen can be accommodated with comfort. She will commence regular trips from Aiken to Grand Rapids again about the 10th of July, and continue to the close of navigation, when lady and gentlemen excursionists can visit the romantic Upper Mississippi at pleasure. The Pogo is a powerful machinery, and can run like a disgusted wolf. All who can, should improve the opportunity of a trip during early autumn.

IF you want to see some fine jewelry with native agate settings, just drop into the fine jewelry store of our friend, E. L. Strauss, Esq.

AND NOW, WHO CAN BEAT IT!—The census of Brainerd was "largely" increased, a few days since, by the arrival at the residence of our friend, C. E. Frost, Esq., of a boy who proceeded to snap the scale-beam up vigorously at TWELVE POUNDS. The boy already orders his beefsteak and coffee, and is in excellent health and fine spirits, while "the folks" are doing nicely. Friend Frost has been congratulated on all sides in beating the whole city on boys.

THE logs in the river are coming down now, wholesale. Several tributary drives have already passed, and the main Mississippi drive is between here and Aiken.

"OUR BEN" has got another new hat, having traded off the other now one for a half interest in a cranberry marsh up near Gull Lake, or some place.

DEAD.—We are pained to announce the death of the wife of C. J. Meloy, which occurred at St. Paul on Friday of last week, at her mother's house. Mr. Meloy has been one of our most highly esteemed residents since last fall, as clerk in the General Freight Office here, and Mrs. Meloy had made many warm friends in Brainerd, and was beloved by all who knew her. The sad event took place in less than a year from their marriage day, and Mr. Meloy has the sincere sympathy of his friends in Brainerd in his peculiarly sad bereavement.

THE verdict of the coroner's jury, in the case of John Anderson, who was found in a kettle of water at the oil house, as referred to in last week's Tribune, was, "Come to his death at the hands of some person or persons, to the jury unknown."

"BLINKY'S" DOOM.—On Saturday last, at the term of court held at Moorhead, Judge McKelvy sentenced the notorious "Blinky Jack," (who has been a terror to this upper country for two years past,) to seven years imprisonment, five of which are to be put it at Stillwater. Good for Judge McKelvy, and good for the Sheriff and County Attorney, whose faithfulness and efficiency as public officers succeeded in bringing this notorious scapegrace to justice.

OLIVER AMES is dead. He died at his residence in North Easton, Mass., the evening of the 8th inst. The immediate cause of his decease was paralysis, induced by the rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. His physician says that he is the victim of anxiety, care and excitement. The statement is perfectly credible. He was sixty-nine years old. Previous to the last attack he had not been sick for forty years.

MINNEAPOLIS JOURNALISM.—It is rumored on the streets that soon after the Daily News passes out of existence, a new daily afternoon paper will be established to be managed by J. L. News, and Dexter Ames, formerly on the editorial staff of the Tribune. It is not known whether there is any foundation for this report. It is expected that the News will close its books by the last of the present month.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer wickedly remarks: "We have solved the problem of the late appalling disaster at Dixon, Ill. The people who had assembled on the Truesdell bridge to witness the ceremony first performed in the River Jordan were not of the church. They were the outside, idle spectators—sinners who amused themselves at such places by jeering at the people in cements. They were of the class which never fails to improve an awkward situation or a failure on the part of the minister to do his work well. Hence the visitation. But, then, the bridge was not first-class."

THE two rival political factions that have long divided the Republican party of Minneapolis, the one headed by W. S. King and the other by W. D. Washburne, have mutually agreed to bury the hatchet. It is understood that the News, the representative of Mr. Washburne's interests, is to be discontinued, and the rival factions will unite in supporting the Tribune. The latter paper has just inaugurated the era of good feeling by nominating W. D. Washburne for Governor.

TO THE LADIES AND LITTLE ONES.—Mrs. Harvey has just received a splendid additional stock of millinery goods, including handsome hats for the ladies and children—children's hats a specialty. Call and see them. Third door east of Fifth, on Front Street.

MAT. WALTON, who, though not a son of Isaac, is quite as useful to this particular part of the world as ever he was, is in business up to the elbows these days, in fixing up the premises of our citizens, with hoes, rakes, axes and barrow. Mat has prepared some beautiful gardens in town this spring—as instance, that of Mr. L. E. Perry, and others—as well as croquet grounds and yards. Mat is a champion, in his way, and although he has but one leg, has seen much of this world, and can, and does, do more work than thousands of able bodied men could, or would, do, if they had all kinds of work, and were not ashamed or afraid to do it. The world would be better if it had more such useful men as Mat. Walton.

The following are the sealed bids presented to the School Board for the construction of the new school building:

The contract was awarded to the Brainerd Lumber and Manufacturing Co., they being the lowest bidder.

MISS LADD's school opened on Monday last, north of the track, under very favorable auspices.

MISS Fitzgerald's school, at the Catholic Chapel, will open on Monday next.

MISS Simon's private school, in the Episcopal parish school building, is in successful operation, with some thirty scholars.

BOTTLED Ale and Porter at New Le Bon Ton for family use, at only $2 00 per dozen. Warranted equal to any in the market.

PERSONAL.—Capt. Houghton has spent the week in town, in setting up the business of, and repairing, the steamer Pogo, and has been in to chat over old times with us. Cap. is one of Minnesota's earliest and best citizens.

WE have received a pleasant call from Dr. Daniel Leasure, of Allegheny City, Penn. The Doctor, with his family, are out on a visit to his son-in-law, Mr. Raymond, and will remain a week or two. Rest, relaxation from business, and the improvement of his health is desired by the Doctor, and we doubt not he will be greatly benefited by his visit to this healthful region.

OUR friend, J. N. Nevers, who has for some weeks been on a visit to his home in York county, New Brunswick, returned here Wednesday evening, healthy and happy. He says he had a good visit, and reports times good down east.

E. H. Bly, Esq., our popular mayor, returned a few days ago from a visit to Southern Minnesota. Mr. Bly says times are very quiet in the Southern Minnesota towns, partly attributable to the fact that the farmers are everywhere busy seeding.

RAYMOND & ALLEN, the great "Empire" clothiers of this city, shipped off three car loads of goods, Wednesday, for the Missouri River, where they are to open a branch store. Mr. R. accompanied the goods, and, after getting them opened up there, he returned, leaving one of his trusty assistants in charge. They have tons of beautiful goods left, however.

IMPORTANT.—On Tuesday, the Secretary of the Interior decided that the St. Vincent extension of the St. Paul and Pacific Railroad was entitled to the lands in controversy between that company and the Northern Pacific Company, at the point where the roads intersect each other, near Glyn-dun. Now it is probable that both the St. Vincent and Brainerd Branches will receive attention by their completion at an early day.

GOOD APPOINTMENT.—We are pleased to learn that our friend, Mr. T. B. Harris, an experienced railroad man and worthy gentleman, has been appointed Railroad Agent at Jamestown, midway between Fargo and Bismarck, in Dakota. This is an important station at all seasons of the year, and we feel sure Mr. Harris will take both ability and dignity with him in managing the interests of the Northern Pacific at that place.

NEW GOODS, best and most fashionable in the city, just received, at Marshall and Campbell's, in every line of the boot and shoe trade.

RUSSELL, of the Brainerd Tribune, who wears his M. C. at the head of his proper name, instead of at the tail, as do the salary grabbers, "don't care a d—n who is Governor" while the capital remains at St. Paul," but promises to mix in lively when it is removed to Brainerd. If Russell will only keep still till that event takes place, his patriotic party friends at the head of navigation, who are so anxious to relieve the balance of the State of all responsibility in the selection of proper persons to fill the offices, will undoubtedly be willing to let him step in and "occupy the lead." But even such brilliant expectations should not lead him to indulge in profanity, especially in the columns of an organ of the great "high moral" and "truly loyal" party of the nation.—[St. Paul Pioneer.

All the editors have been making Governors for some time past, until they are "clean exhausted." When we get a good ready, we propose to get up and tell the readers of our family journal who is to be next Governor, and not bore them to death with an endless list of folks who want to be the next Governor. "James" just lay low.

During a hasty trip west, a few days ago, we were pleased to note the general prosperity of the various towns and communities along the line.

At Audubon, in particular, we were alive with energy and business, and fine improvements were going on. We met many old and new friends. At Audubon, we found friend Rothpletz snugly ensconced and busy as agent and operator. Mr. Cravath, the Land Agent, was kept pretty busy in showing new corners the "features" and "lines" of the country, and is locating scores of first class people in that beautiful young town and fertile country round about. We met our old time friend, Dr. Pyle, who has a beautiful home a couple of miles southwest from the village. The Doctor planted a large lot of melons last year on the 26th day of May, and also tomatoes, and by the 15th of August had both ripe melons and tomatos in great abundance, and that, too, without the slightest extra pains in their cultivation. This will show any one (who knows the character of these kinds of fruit) what the soil of Becker County will do, and the character of the climate. We took an extended tour throughout the country lying south of Audubon and Oak Lake, both through the timber groves and prairies, and we are free to say that in point of richness, varied resources and beauty, it surpasses any region we ever saw before, during many years' residence in the west. The country is gently rolling, with plenty of timber for all ordinary uses, numerous lakes of crystal water, and every little while we would pass springs and cross laughing little brooks, that never go dry. We were the guests of our prairie friend, P. P. Wall, Esq., who has a beautiful timber piece, his castle overlooking a romantic lake, and he did his best to make the visit of our party a pleasurable one, and he tried not in vain—our sojourn and ramblings were the most pleasant, in every respect, that we ever enjoyed. The country is rapidly filling up with the best class of people, very many of whom have already made themselves homes that are charming, and they are just as happy as lords; and independent as a pig on ice. We must say, in all candor, that the country between Motley and Red River is a rich and beautiful one and contains every element of wealth that could be asked for. No wonder our English friends are all fonder locations suited to their minds, and are going ahead with the greatest energy in getting themselves located in self-sustaining homes.

The Steamer Pogo, arrived here on Sunday last, from Grand Rapids, laden with horses and lumbering outfits, and will remain here until her July trip up, probably. She met with quite an accident just as she came into port, by running into the ferry wire, which is elevated above the water a few feet. It seems she whistled several times, loud and long, as she came near the city, so as to notify the ferryman of her approach, so that the wire might be lowered into the river. As the boat came around the point just above the ferry, Capt. Houghton and Pilot Russell could not discover any wire above water, and at first supposed it had been lowered, as per warning; but on coming nearer they saw the wire, and Mr. Russell at once stopped the boat. The wind blew very heavy down the river, and as the shores were filled with overhanging trees, he could not run her to shore above the ferry without tearing her to pieces. Just as the wheel stopped, a saw-log—the river being full of them—floated right into the wheel, so that when he came to back her, the wheel could not be moved in that direction, and aided by the wind and current, she went onward in a helpless condition toward the ferry wire, and swinging broadside as well. In a moment he saw that the only chance left—and it was a mere shadow of a chance—was to give the wheel still another turn or two ahead, so as to get the log out of the wheel, and then he could back her up stream, or shoot for the shore and take the consequences among the trees, in preference to being caught by the wire. The time, however, as well as the distance, was too short, and ere he could carry out the only plan left, the wind blew the steamer broadside on the wire, which caught just under her boiler deck, after tearing away the jack staff, guards, stanchions, etc., including one of her smoke stacks. The boat, of course, pressed the wire down stream until it was tight as a fiddle string, ere she stopped. Being loaded as she was, laying broadside to the current, and the logs accumulating on her upper side, she was slowly settling that way, and in a few minutes more would certainly capsize with all on board.

Capt. Houghton, comprehending the situation in a moment, got a sledge hammer and ax, and by a few well directed strokes cut the wire, when the logs floated and swung around to the shore below. Fortunately no one was injured, although the damage is considerable to the boat. The escape of her total destruction and the loss of several lives was a narrow one.

The "love of a hat" worn by the ladies now, resembles an inverted pumpkin-leaf. A sweet smile from under one of them looks like a frightened bat tread in an umbrella.

ACROBATIC FARMING. A Danbury young man who was once a clerk, lately went on a farm to work. The first night in his new position he was detailed to remove a calf from the apartment of his parent as thousands have been before him, in showing the contrary beast along, the mother reached under the tails of his coat with her horns, and suddenly lifted him up against the roof of the building with a force that threatened to shatter every bone in his body. The first thing he did on returning to earth was to rub himself, the next thing was to throw up his place. He said he didn't doubt that agriculture was a noble pursuit, and that the farmer needed an assistant in the discharge of his multifarious duties, but he didn't believe the Creator designed him for making skylights in cow sheds.—Danbury News.

A GOOD OPPORTUNITY.—I have a farm of 310 acres, 100 acres good timber, 100 acres fine meadow land, 110 acres plow land, on the bank of one of Minnesota's beautiful lakes, two brooks running through, is one of the best stock farms in the country—it will make two good farms. I will exchange all, or part of it, for Brainerd property. Land in Stearns county, 16 miles south of St. Cloud. J. G. TODD.

AN OLD ESTABLISHED FIRM.—The firm of S. M. Pettengill & Co. commenced their Advertising Agency in the old Journal building, No. 10 State Street, Boston, nearly a quarter of a century ago (February 1849) where their Agency is still located, carrying on a large and successful business. They established a branch in New York City, May 1852, which has grown to be larger than the parent house—increasing steadily, year by year, until now it has the agency of nearly every newspaper in the United States, and British Provinces, and does a yearly business of hundreds of thousands of dollars. S. M. Pettengill & Co. have recently opened another branch office at 701 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, where they are doing a successful increasing business. We congratulate them upon their success. We would recommend all who want advertising done in any part of the country, to call upon them. We have done business with them, more or less, for fifteen years, in our connection with various papers in the west, and have always regarded them much the same as a child regards a good and true father. They are gentlemen of the first water, true and honorable, almost to a fault. They are too well and favorably known, however, to make it necessary for us to say much in their praise as being in their profession, and among honorable, straightforward business men.

"AUNT PAOR" comes to time again this week on "Politics." But the old creature gets her hump too high on men, politicians and newspapers, and she stuck her letter in our pocket, to take the matter of publishing her effusion under advisement for a week. Go easy, Aunt, or you'll collapse a few or something.
