It is time some preparations were being made for the Fourth of July. Read the communications elsewhere from "1776" and "Inquirer." They give some valuable hints.

Mr. Editor—I move that the people of Brainerd celebrate the Fourth of July by an excursion to Winton, going down about 10 a. m. and returning so as to put the tired babies in their little beds, on time.

A heavy rain storm, much needed by the crops, visited this section this week. Grasshoppers have made their appearance in large numbers in the counties of Murray, Jackson, Cottonwood and Nobles, and are doing much damage.

A letter received this week by A. A. Henderson, of this place, from his brother who has just returned to Chyenne from the Black Hills, says: "There are about seven hundred houses in Custer City, about one-third of them unoccupied."

A building situated about midway between St. Paul and Minneapolis, known as the "Club House," and which was used as a rendezvous by persons of low character from both cities, was burned on Tuesday morning.

A party of surveyors and assistants went west on Tuesday to lay out a town at Swan Creek, to be called Casselton. The town-site is on the ground now occupied by the N. P. nursery and is a beautiful location.

A redoubt of forty-one Chinamen was used for the Black Hills was wiped out by the Indians about 50 miles from the Red Cloud Agency last of the party being left to tell the tale.

Capt. L. W. COLLINS is daily gathering strength, and will be our next member of Congress if the people outside of St. Paul and Minneapolis will do their duty.

The Minnesota Tribune counts "E. B. Washburne L." That will about constitute his strength compared with J. G. Blaine's majority—A MILLION STROUG.

What has the House of Representatives in Congress been doing the past three months with their millions of dollars expense to the people, and what are they doing to-day besides throwing mud at the Republican candidates for president?

Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE has been marching steadily forward through the very hottest fire of the Democratic guns, never blanching, and stands to-day head and shoulders above any of his rivals and unscathed.

The principal charge, made by the Democratic party against the Republicans, and the main issue with the present lower house of congress is to show that Republican officials have used and do use their position to keep in office and power.

People traveling through Minnesota cannot be too wary of soundrels in the shape of three card monte men, with whom the railroads and steamboats are infested, and who are daily and hourly robbing the traveling community.

The Wells Gazette and other of our exchanges published the advertisement of M. House, Attorney of New York. We wish them success in collecting their pay.

TIMELY TOPICS.

No delay should be had in providing the town and county histories mentioned in the President's proclamation for the Centennial Fourth.

Black Pomeroy's bust has been placed on the outer wall of his newspaper office. How long will it be before we will hear that his newspaper's bust?

The Presbyterian general assembly passed a resolution "reiterating its cordial desire for fraternal relations with the church south on terms of perfect equality and reciprocity."

Spain is reported to be negotiating a large loan in England to expend on the island of Cuba in stamping out the rebellion there. The loan is to be guaranteed by the customs revenue of Cuba.

The Cincinnati Enquirer severely lashes the editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer for hissing speakers in the recent Ohio Democratic convention, thus playing the part of black-guard.

By and by when the various parties get their presidential candidates on the track for the white house, Geo. Francis Train will break out of the mad house and make things lively for the boys.

A San Francisco paper, speaking of the extensive Chinese quarters, says: "The Chinese should not be allowed to cumber the ground." We infer from this that the Chinese are a new variety of que-que-umber.

Gen. E. F. Beal, who succeeds Orth as minister to Austria, is an old army officer and personal friend of the President, with wealth enough to make a respectable appearance as our representative, regardless of his salary.

The secrecy of change, among men who use money, has moved Congress to attempt to put twenty millions more of silver change in circulation. The sooner the bill is passed and the shiners put in circulation the better.

A man named Patterson—not the unfortunate Billy—has been appointed doorkeeper of the House of Representatives in the place vacated by Fitzhugh, who was, according to his own confession, "a bigger man than old Grant."

Edward S. Stokes, the murderer of Jim Fisk, is nearing the expiration of his term of imprisonment. He sleeps in the dissecting room and eats hearty suppers but is not troubled with nightmare. He expects to return to New York to live on the 26th of October.

New York papers complain that the new court-house in that city is so ill-ventilated that a whole bench of judges was prostrated the other day. The trouble is that when the court-house was built the New York "beehive" didn't care to have itself "ventilated."

The Berlin conference modestly demands that Turkey rebuild the hundred and eighteen villages destroyed in the Bulgarian rebellion. On the same ground the United States could be expected to rebuild Alaska, Columbia and other towns destroyed during our great "unpleasantness."

So far the attendance at the Philadelphia fair has been about 38,000 a day. This, if continued, will give a total revenue of not more than four millions for the season, which will pay the expenses and leave a little surplus that a small pocket-book will be large enough to convey to the federal treasury the entire amount to be paid back on the subsidy.

Capt. Eads is getting the better of the sandbars in the mouth of the Mississippi, as it looks to a man up a tree, but reports to the contrary are industriously circulated. Only last week an ocean steamer drawing over seventeen feet was put to sea from New Orleans through Eads' Pass, but it was reported that the channel was temporarily made with dredge boats.

The California crop prospects are reported by The San Francisco Herald, as follows: "Not a single cloud has risen to mar or obscure the crop horizon. Everything betokens the largest and best harvest of grain ever garnered upon the Pacific slope. The farmers everywhere, north and south, are joyful at the brilliant prospects held out to them, and though no one expects big prices, yet the abundant yield of wheat and barley is what they most count upon. Our merchant exporters and others have been diligent in securing a large amount of foreign orders, perhaps 100 ships or more have been already chartered for the United Kingdom at 28 and upward, according to the time of loading and port of discharge. No fears are entertained but that we will have a plentiful supply of tonnage during the year to move the crop to advantage."

Sophocles' tragedy of "Antigone" was recently produced at the Theatre Royal, in Dublin, with Mendelssohn's music, and the "galle" gods were so well pleased that, according to their custom, they demanded a sight of the author. "Bring-out Sapherclaze," they yelled. The manager explained that Sophocles had been dead two thousand years or more, and couldn't well come. Thereat a gamin shouted, "Then chuck us his mummy."

SUMMARY OF THE NEWS.

Crimes, Criminals and Casualties. A fire at San Francisco destroyed over $300,000 worth of property.

A terrible conflagration visited Quebec on the 26th ult. One thousand buildings were burned.

Mr. Blaine having objected, the committee for the investigation of certain charges against him decided that the sub-committee was not authorized to investigate the question whether any corrupt use of bonds was made to secure legislation under the act of the Little Rock and Arkansas roads which came into the possession of the Union Pacific Company.

It is reported from Washington that the Belknap impeachment will probably be postponed until November next. From the fact that two-thirds of the Senators must vote for conviction in order to convict, there is much reason to question the advisability of taking time and money to carry on the trial, as much less than that number voted for the trial.

Charges have been made by one Harney, a former doorkeeper of the House, that he paid Speaker Kerr the sum of $450 for the appointment of a man named Green as second lieutenant of the army. An investigation shows that the man Green was appointed on Kerr's recommendation, but Mr. Kerr says he never received one dollar for the act, nor did he ever know or exchange a word with Harney. Leading Republicans join the Democrats in the belief that Kerr is innocent.

Another charge against Mr. Blaine, made by Warren Fisher of New York, was that he paid Blaine $130,000 "for no consideration whatever," while contractor for building the Fort Smith and Little Rock railroad, Fisher received a telegram telling him to keep out of the way, which he was preparing to do when a United States Marshal waited upon him with a subpoena, which he was compelled to obey.

A new charge against Mr. Blaine, that he was concerned in financial interests of the Northern Pacific railroad, has been made by the New York Sun. It is specified that in 1870 Mr. Blaine wrote to Mr. Warren Fisher, Jr., (and the letter is published) offering to procure said Fisher a share in the franchise of the Northern Pacific railroad, for the sum of $25,000, but adding the caution, "Keep my name quiet." The money was paid but the bonds delivered. Mr. Blaine says the transaction was one of friendship, and that he had no pecuniary interest in it.

SELECTED MISCELLANY.

THE PRINCESS.

All day the white-haired woman sits Beside the open door, and knits...

She thinks of those who long ago Went out across the threshold low...

But never as of those who lie Beneath the wide and tender sky...

Make merry in the locust trees, She thinks her comes and sits with her...

A Princess' Goodness and a King's Affection For a Circus Man.

A letter from Rome, says Prince Humbert, the heir to the Italian throne...

The face of Prince Humbert is a most striking one. It has all the good points of his father's face...

How could they be otherwise than pleased with sweet Princess Margherita?

When the flood were in France and the Princes of the French embassy...

Thus the poor, half-drowned peasants in France were relieved through a noble impulse on the part of the Princess Margherita...

A great deal of comment has been made in Italy, about the King's intimacy with Myers, the circus manager.

"Why," said he, "the King would come and take tickets at my show if I asked him to."

A Queen of Hearts.

Seventeen hundred and seventy-six, which was so suspicious a year for the young colonies in America...

Then Mr. Myers showed me the present he had lately received from the King—a magnificent gold watch and chain.

The first essential for a cheerful room is sunshine. Without this, money, labor, taste, are all thrown away.

Second on my list of essentials for a cheerful room I put—color. Many a room that would otherwise be charming...

Next to red comes yellow. This must be used very sparingly. No bouquet of flowers is complete without a little touch of yellow...

The Italians never tire of singing the praises of the Crown Princess. She is not handsome, if judged by the ordinary standard of beauty...

"Your Royal Highness is too good," said the courtier, taking the bracelet.

Third on my list of essentials for making rooms cozy, cheerful, and beautiful, come books and pictures.

As for pictures costing money, how much or how little they cost depends on what sort of pictures you buy.

"Well, I don't mean exactly that; but then he'd do anything in reason."

They say that at the centennial ball in Frisco a gentleman presented an apple to a lady who was in very undress uniform...

William, who was noted for ignoring pronouns...

William, who was noted for ignoring pronouns, said: "Remain things are hungry—must have rest—take no notice—do not like it."

The King said to his grandchildren, "You never tried, had you not ever wished to be a good housewife?"

To all, particularly invalids, spring is a trying season. It is a time when the system should be attended to.

The Princess Metternich was always a great admirer of Wagner, and the composer, finding all the usual ways blocked for the introduction of his operas in France...
