

WHITE EARTH.

The St. Paul Dispatch special correspondent has the following to say by way of conclusions upon the White Earth investigation, which has closed:

As to the Catholic Missionary, whom the agent charged with many offenses, he has been only through sympathy with the Indians and placing too much confidence in their statements of matters they did not understand.

The leading Indian demand a neutral agent and request the withdrawal of Rev. Mr. Tomlinson, the Catholic missionary, from the agency of the White Earth reservation.

The name of the cowardly commandant of the arsenal at Pittsburg, who refused shelter to the Philadelphia militia whom the mob were following to butcher, should be made public that it may receive the universal execration it deserves.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press published last week an important decision by Judge McKelvy, of the Seventh Judicial District, on a petition to vacate certain tax judgments under the provisions of Chapt. 79, Gen. Laws of 1877.

The killed at Pittsburg, by the riots, number over one hundred. The total loss of railroad property there reaches ten millions of dollars.

Hon. H. H. Child, of Chaska, law partner of Col. Baxter, and formerly a member of the Legislature, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor last week.

The President has commissioned E. H. C. Cooper, of Maine, agent for the Indians of the Sisseton Agency, Dakota.

Hay in drying for three months loses 33 per cent. of its weight; for six months, 50 per cent.; and if kept a year, will become thoroughly dried (in small bulk), at a loss of 75 per cent.; the average loss is 27 per cent. between July 20 and Feb. 20.

It takes, according to a scientific journal, four thousand bumblebees to weigh a pound; but you stop a bumblebee sometime when he is right busy, and pick him up and heft him, and you will raise your hands to heaven and swear he weighs a ton.

Weather for August.

We were asked the other day why, as editor of the most reliable authority, upon things mundane, to be found here, we did not enlarge our sphere of usefulness, and, reaching out our prophetic vision towards the misty land of clouds and showers, prognosticate upon the weather, in order that people generally (that is to say, the readers of the Dispatch) may be prepared accordingly.

The following is the record: 5 to 7 - Fair. 7 to 10 - Severe storms. 10 to 13 - Clear and pleasant. 13 to 16 - Threatening storms and showers.

Both claim the honor. The Dispatch on many occasions during the past two months called attention to the propriety of arranging for a public demonstration in honor of Lord Dufferin, Governor General of the Dominion of Canada.

The name of the cowardly commandant of the arsenal at Pittsburg, who refused shelter to the Philadelphia militia whom the mob were following to butcher, should be made public that it may receive the universal execration it deserves.

Phunnygraphs. THE locusts have "W" on their wings. The liquor men say it is whisky, and the temperance men say it is water. Which is it?—[Ex.] A RIDICULOUS exchange asks: "Were you ever bitten by a bed tick?" And a chap who has traveled replies: "No; but we have been bitten by the next thing to it."—[Ex.] "The little darling! he didn't strike Mrs. Smith's baby on purpose, did he? It was a mere accident, wasn't it, dear?" "Yes, ma; and if he don't behave himself, I'll do it again."

An old lady in Baltimore, aged 85 years, named Betsy Quale, recently set fire to her clothing while lighting her pipe, and was severely burned. This is the oldest Quale on toast of which we have any record. "How many children have you?" asked one friend of an old acquaintance. "Well, I have five, but they were eating cucumbers when I left home, and they may be all doubled up now."—[Oil City Call.] PEOPLE who have eaten grasshoppers say they taste very much like the ordinary black beetle. Oh, well, they must be pretty nice eating then. Waiter, dozen boned grasshoppers on toast.—[Burlington Hawkeye.] "Why," asked Pat, one day, "why was Balaam a first-class astronomer?" The other man gave it up, of course. "Shure," said Pat, "twas because he had no trouble in findin' an ass to roid"—[N. Y. Com. Ad.]

THE German word for life insurance is lebensversicherungsgesellschaft. It has the great advantage that while the agent is pronouncing it, the victim is fairly warded and has an opportunity to climb over the fence and hide under the barn.—[Norwich Bulletin.] THEY were courting clandestinely over the back fence, and she had just remarked, "Yes, love, the eyes are the windows of the soul," when suddenly the old man closed in on him with a club, and his soul hasn't been able to see out doors or get any fresh air since.

IT makes a farmer mad as a wet hen to see a potato bug with a pick on its shoulder crawling over his garden fence, and when it pauses on the top rail to ask why in the name of Julius Caesar he didn't plant earlier, only a mortal fear of the pick prevents him from ordering it off the premises.—[Oil City Derrick.] JOHN WESLEY, at the age of twenty-seven, wrote, "I do not remember to have felt lowness of spirits for one quarter of an hour since I was born." No wonder that he was able to preach when ninety years old.—[Ex.] But then John Wesley never was troubled with grasshoppers or tried to get up a Fourth of July celebration.—[Wadena Tribune.] A DOWN EAST editor, who has been keeping a record of big bees, announces at last that "the best that beat the beet that beat the other beet, is now beaten by a beet that beats all the beets, whether the original beet that beat the beet, or the beet that beat the beet that beat the other beet."
