HUMOROUS.

No man can become thoroughly acquainted with his family history without running for office.

A western girl visited a music store and asked for the "Heart Balled Down with Grease or Care" and "When I Swallowed Home Made Pie." The clerk at once recognized what she desired.

A person who had obtained a free railway pass, asked the road agent if "he could not embrace his wife." "Probably," the official answered, "but I prefer to see her before promising positively."

A medical journal prints rules for "calling on the sick." But unless you hold four kings and an ace it is not safe to "call" on the sick. Some invalids draw paralyzing hands, and the fellow who "calls" is generally the sickest.

A news item says the Duke of Albot at cards at one sitting $1,000,000. We have sat down at cards—"old maid," or "authors," or something that way—more than fifty times, but we never lost $1,000,000. The duke must have had a hole in his trousers pocket.

Dr. Felix Oswald says "sleep is a necessity to man." This has been our experience. It is also a necessity to a woman, but if the doctor has come home from the lodge at 2 a. m. on several occasions, and each time found his wide awake as an owl, ready to discharge her vocal fire-works, he may entertain a contrary opinion.

A literary society is now struggling with the momentous question: "Why does a woman, with a bundle, stand on a corner and look indifferently at one half-filled street car after another go by, and as soon as one comes along crowded from stem to stern, make a frantic effort to get into it?" We think the answer is, "Because she doesn't."

"I like to see a young man have some 'go' in him," was Juliet's father remarked when he entered the parlor at 2 a. m., and found young Fitzclarence still lingering. Juliet's young man didn't stay long after that. Her parents' remark, accompanied by a significant pedal gesture, put so much "go" in him that he has not yet got back.

Scientists have discovered that there is such a thing as a coal-bug, that does much damage to a coal supply by eating it. People who board and buy their own coal have heard of coal-bugs before. They are usually two legged, and fetch up a hod filled with coal taken from the bin of their dearest friend on the next floor, or across the street.

A traveller in Western Iowa, while riding along, came to a large sign, which implored him to "Look out for the locomotive." He accordingly rode down the track for a better view, and while he was obligingly "looking out" for it, it came along. He saw it, but he had to sit in the ditch and wait until a freight train of thirty-seven cars passed by, before he could get back to the other piece of his horse.

VANDERBILT has just secured control of another railroad. This time it is the New York & New England.

EDWARD M. MARBLE is to be Land Commissioner of the Northern Pacific Railroad after December 1st, 1881.

The Minneapolis Tribune does not contain as much readable matter as it formerly did. What is the trouble?

In Ireland trouble is still brewing. At Meate, county West Leath, a farmer named Green, was fatally shot for paying rent.

It is claimed that President Arthur and Ben. Butler are fast friends. Possibly Ben has been working up the cabinet portfolio for a draw.

HENRY VILLARD, president of the North Pacific, is nothing if not a prince. He has just had built the finest car in the world. It is made in great part of mahogany and rosewood, and the lamps and mouldings are plated with gold. It is pronounced a royal palace on wheels.

ABOUT WOMEN.

A true wife both sense and soul delights And mixes not her good with any ill; Her virtues ruling hearts all powers command, All store without her leaves man but poor, And with her poverty is exceeding store; No time is tedious with her—her true worth Makes a true husband think his area cord (With her alone) a complete world of gold. —Geo. Chapman.

There are 4,000 diam shops kept by women in New York City. Only one of the number is a native American.

They allude to Ere in Paris as Mme. Adam; but the French are very polite, and even speak of Monsieur le Diable. An exchange innocently speaks of "the bustle" in Vassar College on the day the fall term commenced. Girls will be girls.

Queen Marguerite of Italy is well versed in American literature, Long-fellow ranking among her favorite poets, and Hawthorne among her best beloved romance writers.

A young lady, doing the Alps, reports to her guardian: "I tried yesterday to climb the Matterhorn; didn't reach the top. It is absurdly high—everything is in this country. Please send me some more money."

The latest "kink" in jewelry is the wiahbone. It is done up in mother-of-pearl, silver or gold, sometimes plain, but oftener set with stones, and worn as a pin, and ornaments the slippers or hair, and is one of the most popular favors for the german.

When a man runs his fingers through his hair he feels quite dressed-up and presentable, but when a woman has braided, twisted, waded, knotted and cramped hers, she doesn't feel half fixed and wants to take it all down and go over it again.

Force of Habit—"Why are you late?" asked an Austin school teacher of a little girl, who hung her head and said, "I have got a little baby at our house." "Don't let it happen again," said the teacher fiercely, and the little girl said she would not, and took her seat.

Rosa Bonheur, although this side of sixty is said to be rapidly failing. She does but little work now, and is said to greatly deplore her inability to continue, and realize the great fame always predicted for her. She has labored earnestly in her time, and can surely afford to rest upon her laurels now.

A Toronto woman bought a hen, and as it didn't lay any eggs, she accused a neighbor of bewitching it and hair was pulled, bricks thrown and hard words banded for six months before they got into court, and then they found out that the principal reason the hen didn't lay was because it was a rooster.

The fashionable waist is described in this manner: "She drew her arms very close to her hips, stuck out her head, bent her body forward, and made a prance, which was a half-polk step and half the stately minuet; while her hands hung down in six-button kids; as though lifeless, and she couldn't carry anything to save her soul."

Two cases of small-pox are reported at Granite Falls.

The Northern Pacific Railroad reached Miles City to-day.

JAY GUILD is about to start a new stock exchange in New York. He states as his reason for so doing, that he does not receive fair treatment in the old one.

When a territory is knocking for admission as a state, it is of much more value to the Union than at any other time, judging from some of our exchanges out farther west.

GURFEAU'S insanity has been of a convenient intermittent sort. He was, according to his theory, crazy when he was investigating theological problems, sane when he was practicing law; crazy again when he was at Onondia; sane when he went into politics, and insane when he shot Garfield. He has a lucid interval now, but will have a relapse when he feels the rope tighten.
